Age Concern Enfield Summer Ball Postponed to 24/04/10

Despite best efforts to re-schedule the ball for later in the summer or early autumn, it has proved impossible to get all the key players together. So Age Concern have postponed this event to Saturday 24th April 2010. Tickets remain at the same price, £55.00 per person and overnight accommodation is available.

With NLN, you can meet new people, get known in the community, get more customers and promote your business through the web site. Our meetings are informal, with the emphasis on enjoyment as well as networking.

The scheme, delivered by Enterprise Enfield in partnership with East London Small Business Centre, offers London based prospective and existing business owners step by step assistance through the process of raising funding over £10,000.

Business Rates Relief

In England small businesses are generally entitled to small business rate relief if the rateable value of their business is less than £15000 or £21500 in London. Additional properties with rateable values below £2200 are disregarded when considering applications for small business rate relief. However, the rateable value for such properties are included in determining whether the threshold criterion has been met.
